

The Holy Spirit

May 19, 2009

My son, the Holy Spirit is the one who I send to teach you. My will [is that] it can move you to a higher level of faith in me.

It can lead you to my Sacred Heart.

It can lead you home to me.

My Spirit is who is leading you to me.

It is I that leads you to me. It is I that can do all that My Father has for you.

It is I, my son, who has been with you from the beginning of your walk toward me.

It is I, my son, who has called you. My Spirit is there when you want it. I am there with you at all times, my son, for I your Lord am pleased with you. I have called you and you have answered. Those who open their hearts to me, I will send my Holy Spirit to them and it will lead them to me. My Spirit goes to all, but not all will open their hearts to me.

It is my love for all of you to receive my love, my spirit, my mercy. My Spirit, my son, is love, love that leads you to me, that helps you in your walk toward me. It converts you; it helps you to do what is right. My love for all my people, my love, is there for all.

My son, it is time to go to work. I love you and I am with you. My son, go and do all in my name.

I Am Who I Am, love that I send to all, love and mercy!

I Have Called

June 10, 2009 (Continued)

My children, I have tried; but you all are so far. I have called, but your hearts are so far. I called but you all have stopped listening to me. I have called, but you just turn your faces and walk away. I have asked you to repent but you turn and go back to filth. I have asked you to come to me, but you didn't believe in me. I have called you to be with me and you chose to say no. I have tried and tried, but your hearts are like stone, hard and cold. I came to set you free, but you like to be in bondage. I came to heal you, but you don't believe that I can heal you. I have done all that my Father has asked me to do; but you, my people, have turned your backs on me. It is I that can open the doors to my heaven, but you chose to stay on that road to hell. I pleaded and pleaded for you to come to me, but my words fall on deaf ears. I have come to free you, but you like to be in prison; you have become comfortable living in sin. I plead for your return, but I know that I have lost you.

So many! My heart is trembling and my blood is overflowing. My pain is so great I can't hold it anymore, but to turn to my Father and nod my head and let go and let my Father do what He will do.

My son, go and lead my people free; do what my Father says; and tell them what I have put in your heart. Tell my children that the hour has come: there is no more time. It has come, [the time] to come to me.

My son, pray to my Father, pray [that] my Son will continue to reach us until I sound the trumpet. My time is almost here. Please continue to ask for my mercy; continue to plead for my love; continue to come to me and ask for my forgiveness.

My son, it is late. Get some sleep.

I, your God who is calling all to repent am calling you to do more.

I Am Who I Am.

Copyright © 2012 Roy Y. Muñoz. All rights reserved. No part of this document may be photocopied, reproduced, or transmitted in any form or by any means without written permission.